PRESS RELEASE

Indian Maritime University, Chennai switches over to Computer-based Common Entrance Test (CET) from 2014 onwards

Admissions to the various UG and PG courses taught in 7 Campuses of the Indian Maritime University, Chennai and its 36 Affiliated Institutions are made through Common Entrance Tests (CETs) conducted usually in the month of June every year. Till 2013, the CET used to be in the pen-and-paper mode.

On the lines of IIT-JEE, IIM-CAT and others, IMU, Chennai has also decided to switch over to Computer-based Common Entrance Test from 2014 onwards. The IMU, Chennai has selected Tata Consultancy Services Ltd., as the Service Provider who will provide End-to-End services for the successful conduct of the Computer-based CETs 2014, except for the setting up of Question Papers which will be done by the University itself.

The Computer-based CETs 2014 will be held on Saturday, 14th June 2014 afternoon, between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. in a single shift across 34 cities viz. New Delhi, Patna, Lucknow, Chandigarh, Mumbai, Cochin, Jaipur, Dehradun, Chennai, Kolkata, Ranchi, Visakhapatnam, Pune, Kota, Bhopal, Meerut, Trivandrum, Bhubaneswar, Hyderabad, Bangalore, Ahmedabad, Coimbatore, Nagpur, Guwahati, Siliguri, Port Blair, Hubli, Jodpur, Jabalpur, Raipur, Agra, Allahabad, Shimla and Srinagar.

There will be one common CET for all the UG Courses viz. B.Tech (Marine Engineering), B.Tech (Naval Architecture & Ocean Engineering), B.Sc (Ship Building & Repair), B.Sc (Maritime Science), B.Sc (Nautical Science), Diploma in Nautical Science (DNS) leading to B.Sc (Nautical Science). There will be one CET for the 2 MBA courses viz. M.B.A (Port & Shipping Management) and M.B.A (International Transportation & Logistics Management), another CET for the 2 M.Tech courses viz. M.Tech (Naval Architecture & Ocean Engineering), M.Tech (Dredging & Harbour Engineering), and yet another CET for LLM (Maritime Law) course.

All potential candidates are requested to take note of this change in the pattern of IMU’s CETs.
