Vice Chancellor's Message

India with a glorious past of its Maritime prowess is again poised to scale up its presence in the global arena. Due to colonial past and political reasons our share in the global GDP has fallen from about 25% few centuries ago to about 3% now. While redeeming its rightful position in trade and commerce in the next few decades, our GDP is expected to grow in the order of 10% annually. Such rapid expansion of a large economy is bound to generate enormous opportunities for the people who are equipped with right kind of knowledge and skill set.

This opens up prospects for young minds of India - like never before in the recent past - in myriad fields related to anything maritime. Be it a Captain, Engineer, Ship Builder, Designer, Port Manager, Logistics Expert - an ocean of opportunity is beckoning the students who are capable and worthy.

If hard work and adventure doesn't scare you, you are the material we are looking for. IMU transforms raw energy and minds of young students into the professionals fit for challenges posed by oceans. IMU offers under-graduation, post-graduation and doctoral studies in various maritime fields through its four schools spread over six campuses across India. The courses offered are unique and tailor made to suit the industry needs. This fact is corroborated by our enviable placement record of 70% which you will agree to be among the best in the country.

I take great pleasure in presenting this Academic Brochure to help you converge on your requirement and a fascinating career in Indian as well as International Maritime Sector.

Dr K M Sivakholundu
Vice Chancellor,
Indian Maritime University
